Welcome to AnthroSource

Home

Welcome to AnthroSource, the premier online resource serving the research, teaching, and professional needs of anthropologists. Developed by the American Anthropological Association (AAA), AnthroSource brings 100 years of anthropological material online to scholars and the public, including:

- Current issues for 15 of the AAA's most critical peer-reviewed publications, including American Anthropologist, American Ethnologist, Anthropology and Education Quarterly, and Medical Anthropology Quarterly.
- An electronic archive of all AAA journals. View holdings information.
- Seamless access to archival content housed at JSTOR for key AAA publications including American Anthropologist (for AAA members and subscribing institutions).

AnthroSource is a fully integrated information resource. Its powerful search engine makes precision research quick and easy. Citations in article PDF files are dynamically linked through CrossRef to other publications, both within and beyond AnthroSource.

But AnthroSource is more than a content collection. It is an evolving, interactive repository of research and communications tools designed to bring the most credible and relevant of anthropological scholarship together in one place and to support a strong community of scholars, teachers, and students in the field.

Registered individual users and AAA members can take advantage of personalization options, such as saved searches and email alerts, to make AnthroSource a truly interactive research tool. If you are an Institutional Administrator with a current AnthroSource subscription, click the Institutions link at left to register access for your library.

If you are a librarian interested in receiving free trial access to AnthroSource, please email your contact details to customerservice@anthrosource.net.

Galileo

- GALILEO is a set of search engines for journals, magazines, encyclopedias, and other authoritative information.
- UNLIKE Google, Galileo searches primarily subscription databases—NOT merely free internet information.

- Galileo databases include COMPLETE articles from more than 5,000 general and scholarly journals.
- Galileo provides you with access to subscription-based resources paid for by participating Georgia schools and libraries.

- Magazines
- Newspapers
- Scholarly journals
- Book chapters
- Conference papers
- Book reviews
- TV and radio transcripts
- Encyclopedias
- Business directories
- Government publications...And more!

UNIT 5

The Great GALILEO

Georgia Library Learning Online

You've heard about GALILEO, been told that it's a 'virtual library' for Georgia.

GALILEO is a doorway to a wealth of information. Through it you can potentially access over 150 databases indexing thousands of periodicals and scholarly journals.

This unit walks you through GALILEO. What it is, what's in it, how to navigate it and how to search it to find what you need.

Print Unit

The compiled unit will open in a pop-up window. Click on the 'Print' button.

Note: Pages in section 4, Getting Around in GALILEO, will not be included in the compilation and can only be printed one page at a time.

Find a scholarly article dealing with:

- Your people group in general.
- Major religion(s) practiced by the group.

Print out at least the first page of both articles found above.

Extra Credit:

Using AnthroSource, find an article (that you didn't know about) from a major anthropological journal.

Enter the information in Anthrolog and print out a copy.

Turn it in next class.
